

TOP TIPS FOR TEACHING READING

ASSESSMENT FOCUS	TEACHING TIPS
use a range of strategies, including accurate decoding of text, to read for meaning; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Types of reading: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A. Skimming - when you need only a general idea of what the text is about and whether it is going to be useful. Run your eyes quickly over the text. Look at headlines, headings, subheadings, titles, the opening lines of paragraphs and words that signal a new point is being made.</li> <li>B. Scanning - when you want to find a specific piece of information quickly. Glance quickly down the text for key words. Run a finger down the middle of the page as you read to focus your eyes and keep them moving.</li> <li>C. Close reading - when you need to explore the details in the text. Read all the words in a short section. Read and reread difficult sections, revising your interpretations each time. Use text marking to identify key points and paraphrase what the writer is saying.</li> <li>D. Continuous reading - when reading for pleasure or to understand a full account of something. Read all the words, but you might be able to read some sections very quickly. Others might need a slower pace to let you take in all of the ideas.</li> </ol> </li> <li>▪ Reading Strategies: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A. See images - visualize what the writer is describing. What pictures can you see of the characters, the settings and the action?</li> <li>B. Hear a reading voice - as you read, think about whose voices you are hearing and how it changes. Think about how the central characters sound and the sound effects of all the action. What can you hear while you read?</li> <li>C. Establish a relationship with the narrator - think about the narrator - the person telling you the information in the text. Identify who the narrator is. Do you like her/him? What would you say to him/her if she/he were in the room?</li> <li>D. Establish a relationship with the writer - can you hear the writer's voice? Is the author hiding behind a narrator or character or speaking directly to the reader? What do you think the writer is trying to say to you?</li> <li>E. Predict what will happen - use what you know about a text to suggest what you think will happen next. Can you explain why? What evidence have you got?</li> <li>F. Relate ideas in text to own experience - does this remind you of anything you have done in your life or anything you have seen or heard about? How does this make you feel about the events in the text?</li> </ol> </li> <li>▪ Reading Strategies Card Sort activity.</li> </ul>

understand, describe, select and retrieve information, events or ideas from texts and use quotation and reference to text; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Quotation quests - find quotations to support a view, opinion, statement.</li> <li>▪ Comprehension questions.</li> <li>▪ Scan the text for the correct information. Present these as a series of bullet points using your own words.</li> <li>▪ Close read the text for specific answers.</li> <li>▪ Write down 3 bullet points that summarise what the text is about.</li> <li>▪ Skim a text for no more than 20 seconds. Which bits of the text caught your attention? Make a list. Now close read. A and B activity</li> <li>▪ In pairs, close read a text. From each paragraph/section, identify one sentence that makes the main point.</li> <li>▪ Skim read the text. Why do you think the writer uses this title?</li> <li>▪ Highlight the facts and opinions in a text in different colours. What does this tell you about the text?</li> <li>▪ Reduce the text to five sentences, then five words and then one word.</li> <li>▪ Sequence a list of points from the most important to the least.</li> <li>▪ Restructure key information into a different format e.g. spider diagram, bullet points, time line, flow diagram.</li> <li>▪ Reread the 2/3 texts. Make a list of the similarities and differences between the texts.</li> <li>▪ Close read the extract. Ask yourself which you think are the most important pieces of advice and record these in a table.</li> <li>▪ Read a description of a place. Visualise the information by drawing a rough map of the place, annotating it with the details given. Read backwards and forwards in the text to check you are linking up the places correctly.</li> </ul>

ASSESSMENT FOCUS	TEACHING TIPS
deduce, infer or interpret information, events or ideas from texts; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Infer - look for what is implied (suggested) rather than what is explicit (stated/obvious). Read between the lines to find the meaning. Look at the words and how they are organised in order to see the writers' different meanings.</li> <li>▪ Deduce - be a detective. Use evidence in the text to work out what is meant. You might have to fill in gaps and make links between ideas.</li> <li>▪ Give students statements related to a text. They must infer to decide if they are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a) literally true (the writer actually states them)</li> <li>b) inferentially true ( the writer doesn't state them but the reader can work out from the text that they are true)</li> <li>c) incorrect (there is no evidence to back up the statements from the text)</li> </ul> </li> <li>▪ Create a table; in one column include Information from the text and the other What it tells us about the writer.</li> <li>▪ Close read a text and try and empathise with a central character. (Empathy - imagine you are in the same situation as the characters or people. What would you do? How would you feel?)</li> <li>▪ What impression do you get of the writer from the text? Support your answers with close reference to the text.</li> <li>▪ Close read the text. Who does the writer sympathise with? How do we know this? Read the text forwards and backwards finding examples from the text. Remember you will need to infer.</li> <li>▪ Skim read advertisement(s) to get a general idea of what they are about. Speculate about: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ the type of magazine/publication they come from</li> <li>○ who would read this magazine/publication</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
